Building a Holistic,
Participatory Process

What You See is All There Is (WYSIATI) trap

What You See is All There Is (WYSIATI) trap

“We never have all the facts when a decision has to be made. So what you see is not necessarily a revelation, but rather can be a trap.”

...we form impressions and judgments based on the information that is available to us.

WYSIATI trap in community and health system perspectives

Myriad of solutions solving isolated problems adding complications to the systems
